

TEXT 6

Call the detective Kevin

One fine day in the evening, a boy named Markus went with his friends to visit his grandmother, who lived in the next village. They decided to take a shorter route through the dark valley. They came to the beginning of the path through the valley and were startled because they found the dead body of a young boy. They quickly ran back and called the private detective Kevin from Olomouc. Kevin arrived as quickly as possible. First he asked the children if they take him to place where they found the body. The boys showed him and Kevin started his work by looking for any prints on the body that could help to find the perpetrator. But there was a problem at the crime Kevin didn't find any prints. So he had to come up with another solution, the only one he could think of was to send the boys who discovered this to that valley. But he wasn't so stupid enough to send them there alone. He called a few friends who work in the army and they were of course determined to help him. So the next day the boys and the soldiers went to the dark valley, they were almost halfway there when they heard strange sounds coming from the bushes. The boys were frightened, but the soldiers calmed them down and went there to wonder. They found another body there and saw a veiled old woman running away. The soldiers told the boys that they were going to get Kevin and they were going to pursue the suspicious person. The boys obeyed and ran for Kevin and the soldiers began chasing the suspect. The boys managed to find Kevin quite quickly but the soldiers chased the person further but finally caught the person. Kevin found that it was the grandmother of one of the boys, the boys were shocked and scared. Kevin took Grandmother into the interrogation room and started to ask the standard questions. His first question was why did the grandmother do that, she couldn't answer this question but she said that she was forced to do it. Allegedly, her neighbor had to force her to do this because apparently the boys did not make friends with her grandson. So Kevin went to grandma's neighbor and she confessed to him, in the end everything turned out well and the neighbor ended up in prison and no body was ever found in the dark valley again. Detective Kevin thus completed his work and was able to return home to his wife and children.