

Flying Cyprian

„Ages ago there was a master of thousand studies and arts, a doctor and a herbalist who lived in a monastery hidden in the mountains. His name was Cyprian. He devised a flying machine, and flew it to God one day."

This is what his flying machine supposedly looked like.

That said one of many legend but we know he lived at beginning 18 th. century and he was a monk who lived in a monastery. He created a beautiful herbarium that still amazes botanists. To this day, it is mystery how he can construct his flying machine or that is only fictional legend. Probably this legend is not true because no evidence has been found of his flying machine. We will probably never know how it really happened.

We do not know how he look like but this is his image.
